How we began our mission

We didn't start out with the aspiration of being the next big makeup company. When we began, our only goal was to help cosmetic surgery patients hide the signs of their procedure and manage their everyday life thereafter.

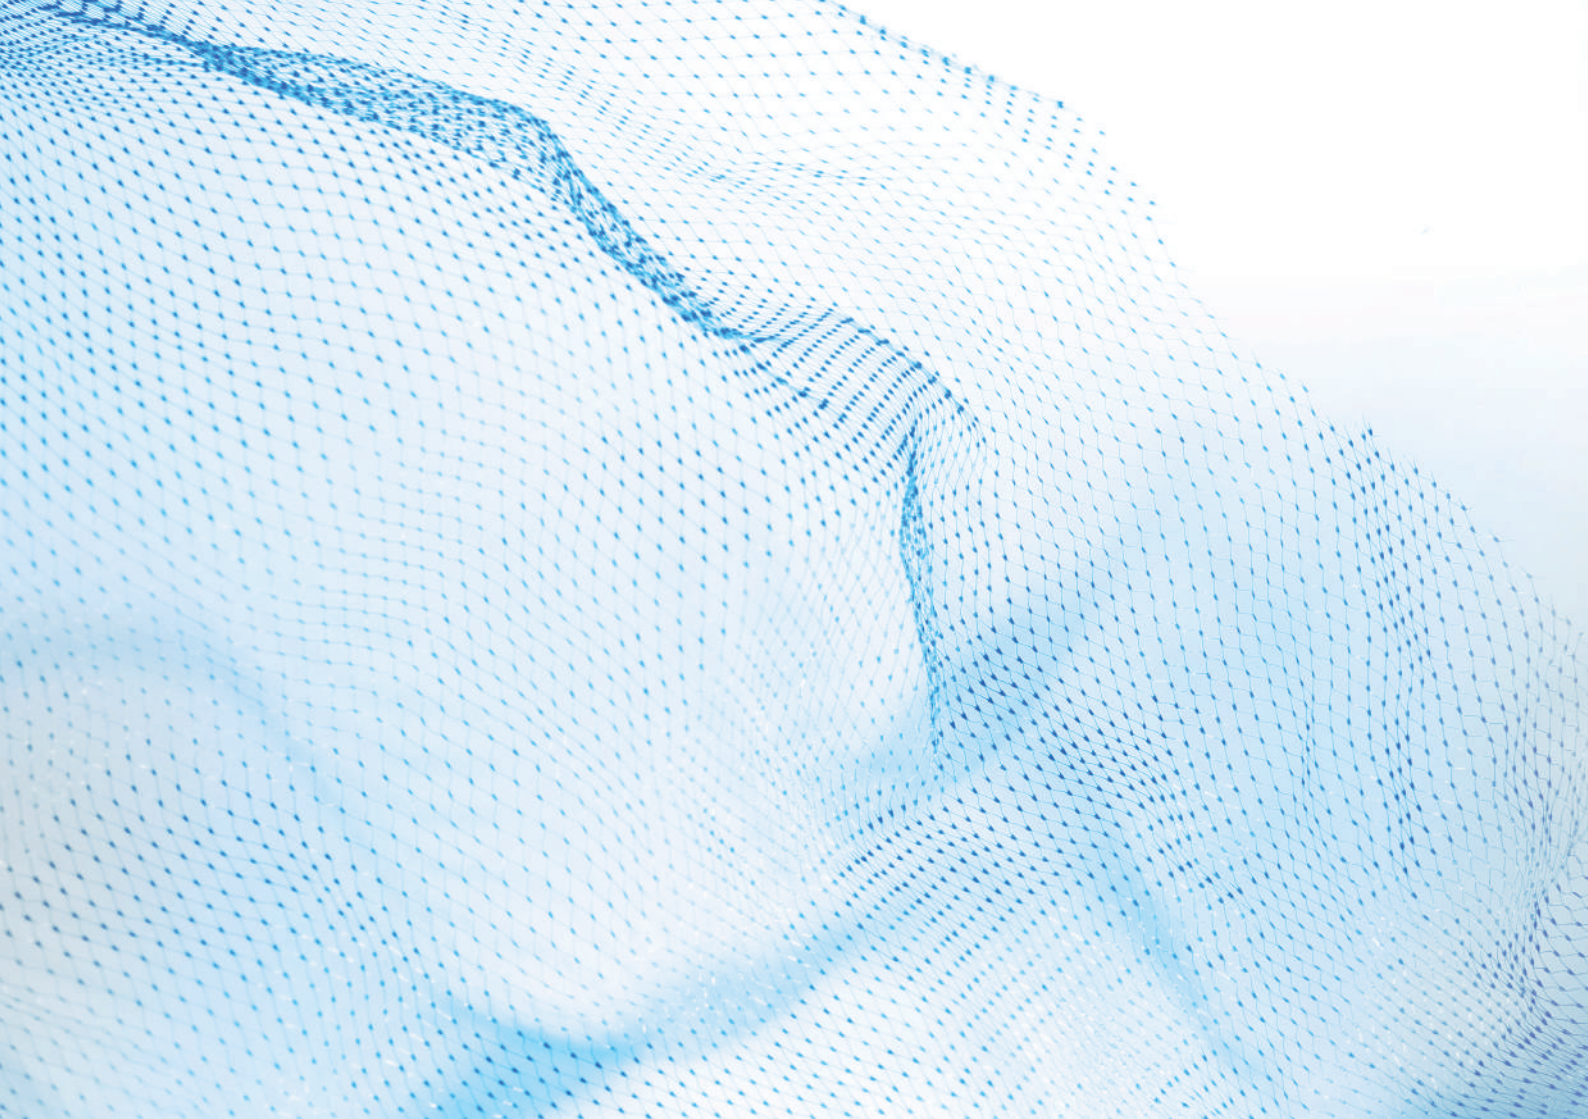

Today our products match any situation, from minimal coverage for a day at the beach, to maximum coverage for post-surgery recovery. Now anyone can create the perfect Lycogel moment and enjoy the flawless look they desire.

Quality is our foundation

We believe that beauty and health are one in the same. When people buy our makeup, they're not just getting long-lasting coverage, they're also making an investment in the long-term health of their skin. They take advantage of the active ingredients that promote oxygen, moisture, and nutrition to their skin, all while enhancing natural beauty.

And that holds true for everyone. We know that not all skin types are alike. That's why each and every one of our products is designed with a variety of skin types in mind. It doesn't matter if someone is looking for anti-aging makeup or something for sensitive skin, Lycogel is for everyone.

Designer Gel Base™

The Designer Gel Base™ is a unique technology that points to the majority of the formulation in which the functional elements such as color, SPF and the active ingredients are incorporated. The Designer Gel Base™ has been developed to behave as an oxygen permeable matrix which allows the skin to breathe from the moment it is applied onto the skin. Simultaneously the breathable matrix forms a strong bond with the skin. This creates an extended opportunity for the functional ingredients to be presented to the skin which results in optimal absorption, protection and the desired look throughout the day.

Breathable

An oxygen permeable matrix that does not occlude.

Delivery System

Optimum availability of active ingredients for maximum tissue utilization.

Durable

Transfer and water resistant.
A little goes a long way.

LYCO COMPLEX™

Our skin needs Oxygen, Hydration and Nutrients to remain in optimal condition.

That is why all Lycogel products are formulated with our revolutionary LYCO-Complex™. LYCO-Complex™ is the name we coined to represent the powerful combination of three ingredients of plant origin, that supplement the skin with oxygen, hydration and nutrition.

- LYCO-FLO2
- LYCO-3HA
- LYCO-PROBIO

Oxygen

- Renews cells
- Stimulates collagen and elastin
- Promotes cell oxygenation
- Soothes the skin
- Promotes natural skin repair mechanism
- Minimizes lines

Hydration

- Medium molecular weight; gives immediate hydration and strengthens skin's barrier by building a superior protective film
- Small molecular weight; Locks in moisture for an even greater hydration boost and calms reddened skin
- Very small molecular weight; retains moisture from the inside, delivering a steady burst of intense hydration and plumping out fine wrinkles.

Nutrition

- Protects longevity of skin stem cells
- Promotes a balanced skin microbiome
- Increases tolerance threshold of over-reactive skin
- Protects the skin from potentially damaging external influences
- Unleashes anti-aging properties
- Stimulates collagen production

Design your perfect look with Lycogel

All Lycogel products are formulated with the unique Designer Gel Base™ technology and the high-performance LYCO-Complex™. Additionally all products offer a UVA and UVB SPF 30 sun protection. What distinguishes the products from each other is how they behave on the skin. In other words the finish the products give after application on the skin which we refer to as the Lycogel Looks.

If you prefer a look with buildable coverage with an elegant matte finish then Lycogel Breathable Camouflage would suit you perfectly. If you're looking for light coverage that'll give your skin a healthy vibrant glow you'll want our Breathable Tint.

Each product is suitable for all skin types and every occasion which we refer to as the Lycogel moments.
